DragRace

Another ADAM exclusive! Realistic Drag Racing action.

Now, from Team Adam, comes the first video game to offer the white-knuckle thrills of competitive drag racing.

Drivers compete against each other and the clock.

As in real racing, a sharp eye on the tach, split second timing (and playing off the leader) is required for fastest exit times.

The race begins with amber to green countdown lights. (A purple start gives a red light and a penalty message.)

If a missed shift over runs the engine and "redlines," the tach, "engine blown" appears on the monitor and the player has to restart.

Dragsters do "burnouts," burn smoke, and give pop drag chutes at the end of a heat, adding to the fantastic realism.

Instant Replay

Nobody can resist trying for better times. Drag Race is an irresistible attraction for any type of location.
